Welcome!

It's our mission to support you in nurturing, discipling and encouraging the next generation on their journey of faith and in the knowledge of the saving power of Jesus. CEP does this by producing vibrant and culturally relevant teaching resources that are firmly entrenched in biblical truth.

We're very pleased to announce that several of our resources are now available in digital download and eBook formats! Our Children's Ministry range of kids@church, kids@club, kids@holiday club, Supadays and Leader resources can be bought, downloaded and electronically shared with your ministry leaders, making for a convenient and cost-effective option. And keep an eye out for our upcoming new Children's Ministry resources, which will all be available for download through cepstore.com.au

A huge collection of CEP's resources are now accessible as eBooks for iPad and Kindle, including all of our Youth titles, the Reading the Bible Today commentary series, Lenten Studies and a selection from our Christian Living range.

We are super excited to announce Patricia Weerakoon's (Christian sexologist) latest release in the second half of 2020, Talking Sex by the Book. This invaluable resource provides guidance on how to nurture children in a Bible-based understanding of God's good plan for sex, identity, marriage and relationships, and how to empower them to navigate the rocky terrain of a sexualised world and make wise choices.

We have completed a full review and update of the Connect curriculum for churches and schools. This curriculum teaches children the stories from the Bible, Old & New Testament, in a fun interactive way. It also fulfills God's commandment to us of Psalm 78:1-7, to teach our children about our wonderful God and what he did, so they can understand how to put their trust in him, and not forget what he has done. In New Zealand we have Christian schools, churches and BIS children and teachers who use and love this curriculum. In New Zealand we have limited stock of the original unrevised Connect Curriculum until stocks are exhausted. What a great opportunity to checkout this curriculum, and bless your children. Please enquire when ordering.

For high school, Think Faith is a highly recommended program developed by teachers and youth ministers to help students navigate what the Bible has to say about the ups and downs of life. Now entering its fifth year, Think Faith has already been used by over 80,000 students across Australia. For more info, see page 40 of this catalogue.

We look forward to partnering with you!

Blessings,

The CEP New Zealand team

Introduction

kids@church is a practical, engaging and life-changing kids' church program which provides children with a well-rounded and enduring knowledge of the Bible.

kids@church is a three-year kids' church curriculum available in three convenient learning levels—Serious Play (for ages 3–5), Adventure (ages 5–7) and Over the Top (ages 7–11).

Each learning level offers 12 units of study. These units may be done in any order, allowing flexibility to plan ahead and tailor your children's program to fit with specific sermon series, as well as celebrate Easter and Christmas.

How to use kids@church across all age groups

Does your weekend program cater for children in each of the three age groups? Several kids@church units can be run together under a single Bible theme across all these groups. This makes it easy to have all the children in the one room together for part of the session and then allow group leaders to split off into age-appropriate activities, prayer and fellowship time. For example, the units in the table below are based on the same Bible themes.

If the majority of your group falls in the 5–7 age bracket, but you wish to accommodate some older and younger kids, we would recommend the Adventure series. You might like to ask a leader to help the younger ones and add a more challenging game or activity for the older children.

Summary of available resources:

Leader's manual

The Teacher's manual for each semester provides clear aims and outcomes, easy-to-follow lesson plans and extension ideas, as well as access to presentation slides, printable downloads and music.
